Our team has been working in children's wear for nearly 20 years. Before founding YingQier, we ran our own kidswear brand in the domestic market, building hands-on expertise in product development, pattern and fit adjustment, and supply chain management.

Established in 2014, YingQier shifted its focus to the overseas children's wear market. We have served clients in the USA, Germany, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Egypt and other markets, gaining practical production experience across different markets and order types.

- Custom development from your inputs: we work from your designs, reference samples, fabric requirements and size specs, together with order volumes, to work out feasible production solutions.
- Product development & sample making: development from your artwork or physical samples is supported, with sampling service available before bulk production.
- Clear confirmation before production: quality standards, production schedule and order terms are confirmed with you before production starts.
